Republican Nominee For Sheriff of Knox County Expresses Appreciation and Gratitude to The People of Knox:

To the voters of Knox County:

I take this method of expressing to you my appreciation and gratitude for the loyal support you gave me in the primary, and of renewing to you my pledge to honestly, efficiently, and faithfully discharge the duties of Sheriff, when I am elected and take charge of the office. While I am grateful to those who favored me with their support, I have no ill feeling at any of my opponents, or those who supported them.

On Saturday night after the election, when the vote was being telephoned in from the different voting precincts, I stood some 350 votes ahead with Flat Lick and the Stinking Creek country not yet reported, when one of my opponents stated he had received reports giving him 172 majority at Flat Lick, 151 majority at Messer, and 86 majority at Dewitt. I told him if his figures were correct that he had won, and that I was defeated, and would do what I could to help him win in November, even if he would not give me a deputy's place. I thought these figures were correct, until the election officers and others from these places came into the County Seat Sunday evening and gave out the correct figures, which reduced the 172 majority to 99; the 151 to 64, and the 86 to 63. This gave me the nomination by 142 votes as certified to by the Election Commissioners, consisting of Sheriff S. H. Jones, J. F. Stanfill and W. W. Byrley. Since it has been known that I was winner, I appreciate the attitude my opponents and their friends have taken toward me and the words of encouragement they have given me.

I feel that many things deserve special recognition and mention by me, but I can not here refer to them. I shall have to wait until I see you and then tell you my feelings and appreciation. I desire, however, to make special mention of the way my own precinct and county stood by me. Out of a total of 298 Republican votes given at Warren, my home precinct, I received 292. Out of a total of 479 given in the four precincts on Brush Creek, I received 464, losing only 15 votes in the four precincts. No candidate in the county running for any nomination of any party received as solid a vote as this. I consider this splendid endorsement and recommendation by my home people, where I have been reared, where I have lived, where I have run my course, and where I have for years served as Deputy Sheriff and in other official capacities, sufficient to refute any of the false charges circulated against me in the primary. If you want to know a man go to his home. I also desire to make special mention of the Democrat Club organized on Brush Creek in my behalf. This club rendered me effective service in the primary; and I am sure can and will do more for me in November. While I have always been a faithful and loyal Republican, I am glad to number among my friends many of the best Democrats in the county.

Again soliciting your support, and hoping to see you before the

November election, and promising you my best efforts as your servant, I am,

Yours sincerely,
SAM L. LEWIS.

A Base Misrepresentation

Last Monday's issue of the Louisville Herald contained a news item sent in from Barbourville which was not only magnified to the extreme, but was a base misrepresentation of the facts concerning the incident referred to in the article. The article to which we refer is as follows:

"AGED MAN WOUNDED, SHOT FROM AMBUSH"

"Joseph Sampson, 89, Suffers Serious Injuries While Sitting on Front Porch."

"Barbourville, Ky., Aug. 10.—Joseph Sampson, aged 89, was shot in the leg here this morning and seriously wounded. The shot was fired from a twenty-two pistol by some unknown person about 8 o'clock while Sampson was seated on the porch at his home. The ball has been removed and Sampson is reported resting easy. Up to late this evening officers have been unable to discover any clue to the identity of the assailant."

"Sampson and his wife recently celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary. He is the father of Circuit Judge Flea D. Sampson of Thirty-fourth Judicial District."

Doesn't that make the hair stand up on your scalp and produce that creepy feeling that you used to have when you went up stairs to bed and the lights were out. No doubt but that those who read this article who are unfamiliar with the mountain section of Kentucky and her people readily imagined a cowardly assassin creeping cautiously up beneath the underbrush until within range, taking deliberate aim and shooting his victim unaware.

The Louisville papers are always glad to pay for anything dealing with the sensational, when written from the mountains and this oftentimes prompts correspondents to magnify and enlarge upon little incidents that would otherwise go unnoticed.

The facts are that "Flea" Joe Sampson, one of the best citizens of Barbourville and Knox County and probably without an enemy in the world was accidentally shot in the leg last Sunday morning a week ago by some miscreant who no doubt fired at a target or bird and the bullet accidentally hit Mr. Sampson while seated on his porch.

There is nothing whatever to indicate that the ball was fired from a 22 caliber pistol rather than a 22 caliber rifle, and as to being shot from ambush—bosh! In the first place there is no ambush near his residence and he lives within the city limits and within a stone's throw of a number of neighbors. Oh what's the use saying anything about it. To lie is to misrepresent and this article is a gross misrepresentation on the face of it. We do not know who is at fault in misrepresenting these facts, but the fact remains that the article is a slur upon the good people of the mountain section.

This is an age of sensationalism in the newspaper world and if the sensational does not happen then it is up to some ingenious scribe to create the necessary sensational stuff out of ordinary incidents of daily life. This is done without regard to injury to others and often without regard to truth or veracity.

Republican Nominee For County Judge Wishes to Thank the Voters and Citizens for the Support Given Him on August Second.

To the voters and citizens of Knox County:

I wish to thank you for the courtesy and trust you have shown me by giving me the nomination to the office of County Judge of Knox County. I know that I have run a fair race and I know that the people were for me and I appreciate that as highly as anyone could. I shall stand by the people and see that they are represented in the right manner. I shall stand for law taxation and good roads. This is my theme and theory and if I am elected in November the people may know that they have a safe man and one that they can rely upon. I shall always contend for a better rate in taxation and extension in road building in this county. I believe that I can reduce taxes with the co-operation of the Fiscal Court and then with judgment keep the road building in headway in this county and at the end of the term step out with credit to myself and to the county.

The good road question of our county has just begun. I shall strive to see that each part of the county gets what it is entitled to and that the funds are handled with the very best judgment.

I again thank the people of Knox County both Republicans, Democrats and Progressives alike, who have helped to nominate me and I promise that I shall see that you have a square deal at my hands regardless of Politics or Political affiliation. I want to thank my Republican opponents, Mr. Dozier, Mr. Trusser and Mr. Kash, for the kind manner in which they have ever treated me and ask them and their many friends to rally to the support of the Grand Old Republican Party this fall. This I know they will do.

I shall wage this election without political strife against Judge Stamper and shall treat him with all due respect and courtesy.

I thank the people again for their staunch support,
I am their friend.

THOS. G. HAMMONS.

Won First Prize

Artemus Hemphill, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hemphill, of this city, won the first prize at the Cotton Carnival at Galveston, Texas, July 31st. Artemus Hemphill has been in the United States service for the past eight years. He is now holding the Position of Sergeant Co. F, 6th Cavalry, located at Texas City, Texas.

The clipping which follows is taken from the Texas City Daily Times, of which Fred W. Hemphill is employed in the mechanical department. Fred was connected with the People's News at the time he accepted the position with the Times.

The clipping follows:
Sergeant A. H. Hemphill, of Troop F, Cavalry, won the first prize yesterday at the Cotton Carnival, at Galveston, for cavalry riding. The prize was $50. Sergeant Hemphill is a brother of F. W. Hemphill, an employee in the mechanical department of the Times.—[Texas City Daily Times]

The Demand for Skilled Draftsmen and Artisans Increasing.

In order to meet the demand for draftsmen and skilled mechanics, the College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering of the State University, has established a short course in mechanic arts, covering a period of two years. There are many young men whose secondary education has not been extended enough to enable them to enter the high grade course in mechanical and electrical engineering, but the University in order to take care of the great number of young men who are not qualified to enter the freshman class, but are ambitious to become skilled draftsmen, designers and artisans, has established this course which will be of great value to many young Kentuckians and when they have finished the prescribed course of study they will be able to secure positions with industrial concerns that will lead eventually to positions of responsibility, depending upon the aptitude of each individual. This course of study is given to the young men of Kentucky practically without cost and it is hoped that a good many young men of this community will take advantage of the special training that has been provided.

During the summer the University has received a great many applications for draftsmen and young men skilled in shop practice and there will be no question about young men securing good positions when they become skilled in these practical branches.

The size of the watermelons that are being brought in is not very gratifying to the farmer, but are perfectly satisfactory to the purchasers. The lack of rain has made the melons this year sweeter and better than for a long time past.

With Jack Johnson in Paris, France and Harry Thaw, reported en route to England and Teddy Roosevelt, preparing to leave for South America in a few weeks, the country bids fair to enjoy a period of peacefulness and quietude for some time.

NOTICE Change in Roadway

There will be filed in the County Court on September 5th, 1913, a petition for a change of roadway from Swan Pond to Stoney Fork, and described as follows:

Hampton to the pass in the top of the mountain where the old road crosses, and down and around the mountain over the lands of Joshua Sear and A. I. Croley, Gordon Parker and the heirs of J. D. Parker, dead, to the forks of the road near Gordon Parker's residence, in some places following the old road and in others leaving it in order to give the grade and bed for the road.

Correction

Through typographical error in printing the financial statement of the First National Bank last week, the surplus was shown to be $22,500 when it should have read $25,000. This is the correct amount of the surplus fund, $2,500 having been added on July 1st.

USE THE SCIENTIFIC TERMS

Peculiarity Noticed in Old Soldiers When They Are Talking of Wounds Received in Battle.

Three veterans of the civil war sat on a bench of new, sweet-scented pine in a wood. The occasion was a Fourth of July picnic, and the veterans eating sandwiches and drinking lemonade, talked of war.

"Yes, this here," said the first veteran, twiddling with a flattened bullet that dangled from the end of his watch chain—"this here entered my tibia at Bull Run, fractured my fibula, and tore up my gastrocnemius quite some."

The second veteran displayed a flattened bullet that served, surrounded, with tiny diamonds, as a scarfpin.

"This feller," said he, "went through my radius and ulna."

The third veteran, showing a flattened bullet that formed the central ornament of a massive gold ring, said:

"This ball, friends, was dug out of my deltoid."

The veterans munched their sandwiches calmly, and calmly drank their lemonade; and an army surgeon remarked to a bystander, with a wink:

"A queer thing about old soldiers the world over is that they preserve as ornaments the bullets that have wounded them. Another queer thing is that they always learn the scientific names of the bones and organs and muscles that have suffered."

"Radius and ulna, gastrocnemius and deltoid, tibia and fibula—you'll always hear such terms as those upon the white-bearded lips of an old soldier."

IN PRAISE OF ART SARTORIAL

Writer Claims Place in Ranks of Genius for the Designer and Cutter of Clothing.

Art, music and poetry have in all ages been considered the polite arts, but what is art without the proper portrayal of the dress of the age that it seeks to represent? What is music that does not bring inspiration from the masters of the past who were clothed in the power to give us glimpses of men and ideals of whom the only lasting impression can be gained by the form our imaginations clothe them, and our imaginations clothe them in robes in which their creators sent them out on their errands of giving the world higher ideals. Then what is poetry but thought clothed in words? No matter from what side viewed, the figure of speech of clothing is the symbolic key that gives entrance to those higher realms, and therefore why should not clothes themselves touch the hem of the garments of the arts, with which they are so closely in touch?—American Tailor and Cutter.

Mrs Hugh Thompson Dead

A telegram was received by Mrs. Nan Wilson bearing the sad intelligence of the sudden death of her daughter, Mrs. Hugh Thompson, (nee Florence Wilson) of Pueblo, Colorado, some time during the day Wednesday. The remains will be buried at Pueblo, it being impossible to bring her remains here for burial.

SHUT OUT DREADFUL SIGHT

Young Bride Fled From Scene Where Loved Husband Wrestled With His Heavy Burden.

She opened the door of his dressing room timidly, for the sounds had startled her. What she saw there froze the blood in all her veins and most of her arteries. They had had a slight quarrel at supper. She had thoughtlessly made the tea in the half-filled coffee pot, but nothing so serious as to drive him to end his life—slowly, and with anguished sounds, he was choking himself!

"Hippocrene!" she shrieked. "Desist! I apologize."

"Go 'way!" he gurgled with rolling eyes. He twisted the inexorable band tighter, tighter, tighter, tighter.

"Hippocrene, stop. Stop, for my sake!" she pleaded. "We have been married four days and if you commit suicide right away like this the shock may be too much for mother. Besides, she may blame it on me!"

"Go 'way," he gurgled hoarsely, and tottered, reeled and still his strong fingers were at their work of self-destruction.

"Hippocrene!" she besought once more. "We haven't saved enough money to pay a respectable undertaker's bill."

"You're right!" he gasped. "But, dog-dag it all, I got this blamed collar on once before and by Genedick, I'll do it again!"

She put her hand over her eyes and left the room as he recommenced.

ETHEREAL SPACE NOT EMPTY

Flammarion, Noted French Astronomer, Points Out Error in Belief of Scientists.

"It is logical to suppose," writes Astronomer Flammarion, "that interstellar space is a haven for the emanations of the stars. It is into these celestial fields that the atmosphere of the moon has gradually escaped our satellite by reason of its feeble mass not being able to keep it. It is also to these ethereal regions that have fled the lightest gases of our aerial ocean, such as hydrogen and helium, which the earth in its progressive evolutions has not been able to retain and of which a certain quantity still floats today in the upper strata of the atmosphere a hundred kilometers or so above the ground, where they very probably form the basis of the chemical constitution of the aerial fluid in these elevated regions. This ethereal space which science has so long considered as preeminently the type of a vacuum, now presents itself to us as full of unknown substances, which have perhaps an important influence in the evolution of the universe."

It is said that there are well-authenticated maps showing the coasts of Florida and Cuba, one dated 1414 and the other 1492, before the return of Christopher Columbus from America.

Confirmed Proof

Residents of Barbourville Cannot Doubt What Has Been Twice Proved.

A gratitude for complete relief from aches and pains of bad backs—from distressing kidney troubles—has been publicly recommended. Doan's Kidney Pills. Residents of this vicinity who are afflicted persons, now say the results were permanent. This testimony doubtly proves the worth of Doan's Kidney Pills to Barbourville kidney sufferers.

F. Huber, Prop. of Hotel, Middleboro, Ky., says: "Lame back gave me a lot of annoyance for long time. I had a dull pain in my joints and stopping was out of the question. Mornings, my back was so lame that I could hardly get up to do my work. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills recommended, I got a supply and they proved to be just as represented. They soon drove the aches and pains away. I gladly confirm the endorsement I gave in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills before."

BABY HEALTH CONTEST AT FAIR

Will be One of Many Novelties of Special Interest to Ladies

PROMINENT WOMEN HERE

Exhibits Will Show What Perfect Baby Should Be—Mrs. John L. Woodbury, of Louisville, Will Answer All Inquiries Regarding Details of Contest.

A new feature announced for the coming Kentucky State Fair is the Baby Health Contest, and already it has attracted a great deal of attention. This contest is modeled after those which have been so successful in other states, notably Iowa. The contest in this state was first inaugurated in 1911 by the Iowa branch of the National Congress of Mothers, with Mrs. Mary P. Waite in charge.

The Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs has been asked to cooperate with the Kentucky State Fair, and the chairman of their health department, Mrs. Lafon Hiker, associated with Mrs. Georgia Grant and Mrs. Herbert Dittmer, of the Health Committee, will act in an advisory capacity.

Uniformity is absolutely essential in the examination and marking of the children in order to secure any results of value in a nation-wide movement. The score card, so long and universally used, is such a basis for uniformity that its exclusive use is very important in this work and it has accordingly been adopted by Kentucky.

The prizes will be of comparatively small amount or value. To offer valuable prizes, or to permit such offers by newspapers, baby food manufacturers, photographers, or others interested in advertising themselves or their business, would excite the cupidity of parents, cause a scramble for gain instead of a search for knowledge, and endanger and tend to commercialize the whole movement.

The Babies' Health Contest at the coming Kentucky State Fair will be in charge of Mrs. John L. Woodbury, of Louisville, who will be glad to answer all inquiries regarding the work.

RACING EVENTS SCHEDULED FOR STATE FAIR.

Stars of the Track to Compete for Rich Stakes—Classy Trotting and Racing Promised for Show.

The eleventh annual Kentucky State Fair, to be held in Louisville next September 15-20, promises a celebration of a magnitude, excellence and general interest that has never heretofore been eclipsed by a like event, and the phase of the fair will offer a more universal attraction than the racing program which has been arranged.

The Early Closing Events for trotters and pacers, entries for which closed May 15, includes the unprecedented enlistment of 128 contestants, a roster which is fully 40 per cent larger than any heretofore recorded, and which, it is said, numbers some of the classiest examples of horse flesh the country can boast.

There are a half dozen stakes for which these horses will compete. The first two being $500 trotting events for two and three-year olds, and the remainder $1,000 stakes for 2:11 and 2:10 pacers and 2:14 and 2:20 trotters.

In addition to the trotting and pacing events, the fair will offer daily running races, with entries including some of the classiest and speediest horse flesh then stabling at the Douglas Park track in preparation for the fall race meet, which immediately follows the week of the State Fair.

Feature of Closing Day.
The feature of paramount interest on the closing day of the fair will be the Gentlemen's Cup Race. The Brewster's Association has donated a silver cup as trophy to the winner of this race.

Entries for the purse races for trotters and pacers will not close until a week prior to the opening of the fair. The purses for these events are $500 each, evenly divided among the trotters and pacers. The list will include 2:12, 2:16, 2:18 and 2:24 trotters; and 2:12, 2:14, 2:18 and a free-for-all in the pacing class.

The entire track program for the coming fair has been arranged with a view to variety, and lovers of good, clean sport and of royally-bred animals may anticipate one of the most pretentious exhibitions in the history of the state.

The Kentucky State Fair track is rated as one of the finest ever laid, and the recently-enlarged grand stand offers an ideal arena for sociability, as well as sporting recreation.

This contest, which is open to farm boys and students of any agricultural college, is a splendid incentive to scientific farming, and there is nothing so deeply interesting to the future "bone and sinew" of the state as the opportunity to demonstrate their practical knowledge as tillers of the soil and breeders of fine stock.

A special donation of $25 in gold has been made by J. B. Howles, of Bardonia, Ky., in the saddle horse judging contest, and D. H. Ewing & Sons, of Louisville, Ky., have given $25 as a prize for the best boy judge of dairy cattle.

MEN IN CHARGE OF STATE FAIR

Human Cogs in Big Wheel of Kentucky's Greatest Show

WORK IS FULLY OUTLINED

Each Division of the State Fair Will Be Under the Direction of a Man-in-Charge and a Capable Superintendent.

Louisville, Ky., (Special.)—The powerful and efficient operation of a gigantic piece of machinery is dependent upon its smallest cog, and it is also true that the intricate movement of a great enterprise like the Kentucky State Fair is equally dependent for smooth and successful running upon the various human cogs forming its operating force.

For the eleventh annual State Fair, to be held next September 15-20, there are already twenty-two component parts and subsidiary cogs in active and united operation, all working toward the most brilliant and successful enterprise of the kind that Kentucky has ever known.

The twenty-two departments embrace an enlarged area of exhibit, each department being presided over by a member of the State Board of Agriculture, who is styled the member in charge, and under the direction of each member in charge there is one or more superintendents, who have active supervision over the various exhibits and the personal welfare of exhibitors and visitors to their domain.

The departments and their superintendents have been allotted in accordance with the appended list, and already there is the friendliest and most commendable rivalry among the heads and their assistants looking toward the success of their particular field of operation.

The various departments, with their heads, are as follows:

MAGNIFICENT PRIZES

A magnificent silver trophy, worth $125, donated by the American Saddle Horse Breeders' Association, and prizes of $175 will go to the practical "Little Farmers" of the state in the Students' Judging Contest, which will be one of the most important and interesting adjuncts to the Kentucky State Fair, to be held in Louisville next September 15-20.

MAMMOTH HIPPODROME SHOW STATE FAIR NIGHT ATTRACTION

Magnificent Horse Show Pavilion Will Be the Scene of Brilliant Spectacles During the Eleventh Annual Kentucky State Fair—Mounted Band and Other Wonders

The magnificent Horse Show Pavilion of the Kentucky State Fair Grounds, which girdles in size and general modernity the famous Madison Square Garden Circle of New York City, will be the scene of brilliant spectacles during the coming eleventh annual Kentucky State Fair to be held in Louisville, September 15-20 next.

J. L. Dent, Secretary of the State Fair, has arranged for the greatest Hippodrome Show ever gotten together for a celebration of this kind and not only will out-of-town visitors, but Louisville citizens as well be astonished and delighted at the pretentiousness and excellence of the entertainment provided in the mammoth and brilliantly illuminated arena that affords such excellent back ground for any entertainment offered.

The exhibition, which is in the nature of Hippodrome Vandeville, will begin each night at 8 o'clock and includes the marvelous Mme. Marquette and her imported Arabian High School Horses, Chief Germano and Sandow, and her unexcelled high-jumping steed, St. Patrick, who holds the world's record of 7 feet 10 1/2 inches, and has posted a challenge of $1,000 to all comers against this height. Mme. Marquette will also exhibit her wonderful trotting ostrich, Cancho, who, hitherto with a running horse to a road wagon, made and now holds the world's speed record.

Other features of the program include the Six Flying Herbs, conceded to be the best aerial act in the country. The sensational mid-air flying and catching of these splendid athletes is a wonderful sight, as well as a picturesque one. Their costumes are changed at every performance and they perform on a rigging thirty-five feet from the ground.

The Airline Family is made up of five male and one female artists. The six are reputed the fastest and most skillful performers in the world and they hold more medals and trophies than any other six-high acrobatic act in the show world. They do double and triple somersaults, Pyramid building, etc., and work with an ease and grace that is remarkable. They are Cubans and stand unrivalled in their line.

The five Ferris Wheel Girls will offer a real novelty in which the quintette of beauties perform startling and sensational gymnastics on a revolving Ferris Wheel. The girls are pretty as pictures, wear gorgeous clothes and in addition to their nimbleness and skill, they are instrumentalists of marvellous ability and vary their turn with concerts on brass of a classical as well as popular nature. At night their wheel is gorgeously illuminated with colored incandescents that give a veritable fairyland effect to their turn.

King Edward's Lion Act will offer sensation of the highest order in the performance of a beautiful group of wonderfully trained man-eaters. The lions are an aggregation of monster Nubian animals, who go through the most amazing tricks and evolutions at the instance of their intrepid trainer and the turn as a whole is said to be original and different from the stereotyped animal act as could possibly be. The entire exhibition takes place in a strong steel arena, offering perfect protection to the spectators.

In addition to these high-class acts and the famous Herlihy Mounted Flat Cavalry Band, there will be shown each evening an interesting series of the best saddle horse and harness rings ever exhibited in Kentucky. This will, of course, include the sensational $2,000 Commissioner of Agriculture live-gaited saddle horse stakes, for which the pick of the saddle horse world is entered.

Due to the excessive expense and the excellence of the entertainment offered there will be a gate admission of 25 cents charged for the night vaudeville and hippodrome performances.

$2,000 SADDLE HORSE STAKE BANNER FEATURE KY. STATE FAIR

Seventeen Blue-Blooded Equine Monarchs Have Been Entered In This Contest for Rich Prizes at the Big Louisville Show In September

(Special.)—Seventeen royally bred "Monarchs of the Equine World" are to be pitted against each other in the great $2,000 Commissioner of Agriculture Saddle Horse Stake for live-gaited saddle horses, which will be the banner event of the Kentucky State Fair, to be held in Louisville, September 15-20, according to the list of entries which closed on July 1.

The premium is the highest ever offered in a contest of this kind, and has attracted the most important owners and exhibitors of the country. The $2,000 stake is divided into seven different prizes, and one of the conditions of the contest being that the entry money for all over 15 contestants shall be added to the first premium, makes this enticing prize figure up to $680. The honor of being "in the money" at all in this stake is one coveted by the leading owners and exhibitors of blue-blooded stock in the country, and the struggle for supremacy among the seventeen is destined to be a formidable one.

The roster as it stands for 1913 includes P. W. Hay & Son, of Bowling Green, Ky., who will probably fight for first prize with Black Whirlwind, a contestant, who is truly a "dark horse," being totally unknown to ring frequenters, but who is reputed as formidable as its name. Mat S. Cohen, of Lexington, Ky., will very likely enter the celebrated Mary Vandell Fox, who took third prize last year for her proud owner, Mrs. Richard Powers, of Louisville, Ky.

J. T. Collins & Son, of North Middletown, Ky., will enter a horse never shown heretofore.

Matlack & Shropshire, of Winchester, Ky., have taken two entries and will likely make a strong bid for first honor with Hazel Dawn, the beautiful winner of the 1912 prize, and the great gelding Jack Barrymore.

Powhatan Woolridge, Pewee Valley, Ky., has also doubled his chances and it is surmised that he will enter a very fine saddle horse and his celebrated Richdon King.

W. S. Nicol, Woodburn, Ky., will come in with an unknown, as will Thurman & Peters, of Springfield, Ky. H. F. Moreland, Lexington, Ky., will more than likely choose as his entry a full brother to the celebrated Nickel Plate, and Ball Brothers, of Versailles, have several likely prospects, among the number being the great Saddle Macy.

James Green, of Louisville, Ky., will show the bay stallion, Happy Chief, one of the celebrated sons of Bourbon Chief.

H. C. Barham, Milan, Tenn., promises to uncover a horse new to the wisecracks of the ring.

The entry of A. G. Jones, North Middletown, Ky., has not yet been named, but it is supposed he will show either the Princess V. or Marvel King, brother to the noted stallion Bourbon King. Miss Lulu Long, of Longview Farm, Lees Summit, Mo., has entered My Major Dare, the splendid $10,000 beauty which she purchased last year after he won the fifth premium in the 1912 Kentucky State Fair Stakes.

Allen H. Eddlen, of Bargain, Ky., will in all probability show a promising daughter of Bohemian King, and Gen. John H. Castleman, of Louisville, either his famous Carolina or Marguerite.

A BRILLIANT MIDWAY

Is Assured Visitors To the Kentucky State Fair, to be held in Louisville, September 15-20, in the hooking of the Mammoth Johnny J. Jones Exposition Aggregation, which consists of eighteen of the greatest side-show and open-air attractions in the country, and is of a size, completeness and class requiring no less than twenty-five double length 70-foot steel flat cars to transport it.

The Midway attractions, from start to finish, are of a character that will appeal irresistibly to young and old alike, and will offer a riot of fun to any and all who visit within its precincts but it is the medley of rule of state fair officials that nothing even bordering on the offensive be permitted in these shows, and parents may rest assured of the fact that children of the tenderest age may freely visit any and all of the shows listed under the Johnny J. Jones's banner.

FARM BOYS' ENCAMPMENT

Sharp Rivalry Will Be Exhibited at Kentucky State Fair By Budding Agriculturists.

Already throughout the entire farming districts of the one hundred and twenty counties of the state the "Little Farmers," on whom the future progress and prosperity of the commonwealth depend, are looking forward with keen interest to the delegates to be selected from each county for the Farm Boys' Encampment at the Kentucky State Fair, to be held in Louisville next September 15-20.

The boys, during their encampment at the fair, are regarded as guests and wards of the management, and every thing possible is done to make their trip in the nature of a gala event, as well as one of inestimable benefit to them from an educational standpoint. Each day the boys are taken on tours through the various departments of the fair and lectures by authorities on the various phases of agricultural and mechanical science are given free of charge.

Quotations from appreciative missives from the farm boys of last year's encampments state:

"Above everything else the fair taught me to regard Kentucky as one of the foremost states of the Union."

"What pleased me most was the discovery that there is more to be studied in agriculture than I had ever suspected."

"Education, as embodied in the State Fair trip, is the pathway to success."

As the coming Kentucky State Fair is destined to be the greatest in the history of the state, the boys who succeed in capturing the representation of their county will be fortunate, indeed, and may well look forward with anticipation of pride to the wearing of the white cap and button badge that will mark them as one of the Farm Boys' Encampment of the eleventh annual Kentucky State Fair.

Unrelaxed Vigilance.

A young Toga matron has just returned from a visit to her millionaire uncle. "I didn't have a very good time," she confided to a friend. "I had to watch my trunk every minute to keep the mind from unpacking it."

Placing the Blame.

While preparing her three-year-old daughter for bed, her mother on the discovery of a hole in her stocking, exclaimed: "Why, Betty, there is a hole in the toe of your stocking." Betty replied: "Yes mother, but don't blame me, if my big toe ate a piece out of my stocking."

Assigning the Cause.

"What an extraordinary curve your horse has in the spine," said a gentleman to an Irish farmer. "Can you account for it?" "If the powers, sir, and to be sure I am able. I have heard, sir, that before the beast was my property he was backed against another horse, your honor, who beat him hollow, and I daresay it's the reason that his back never got straight again."

One Unconsoled Grief.

Many housekeepers can sympathize with the old Virginia lady who said to her friend, on finding a treasured old cup cracked by a careless maid: "I know of nothing to compare with the affliction of losing a handsome piece of old china." "Surely," said the friend, "it is not so bad as losing one's children." "Yes it is, for when your children die you do have the consolation of religion, you know."

Persaver Always.

No talent will enable us to do any work worth while without drudgery. To no childlessness must tempt us to give it up because it is hard. No work can be well done by any one who is unwilling to sacrifice ease to its accomplishment. Persavara is not only the price of success, but the price of manhood also.

Always Dust in Atmosphere.

We owe the blue of the sky to the fine dust in the atmospheric height, where the air is purest. When the wind sets the dust in motion the blue turns to gray. The smoke of a cigar is blue as it issues from the mouth of the smoker in whitish gray because the particles of the gray smoke have increased in volume by fixing water vapor.
